This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Substituted sections.

III.—In place of the 62nd, 63rd and 65th sections of the said recited Act, 47th Victoria, chapter 2, it is enacted that the following shall respectively be deemed and be taken to be the 62nd, 63rd, and 65th sections of the recited Act, 47th Victoria, chapter 2, which Act shall be read and construed as if the 62nd, 63rd, and 65th sections thereof had been originally expressed in the following words:—

On discovery of a vein, &c., of mineral "mining location" may be secured;

LXII.—In case any person, after such search, prospecting, or exploration mentioned in the 60th section of this Act, shall discover any vein, lode, or deposit of mineral in and upon any of the said lands, and shall desire to obtain a lease thereof from the Crown, he shall proceed as follows: He shall forthwith, after such discovery, mark the location in respect of which he intends to apply for such lease, by placing thereon at each of the four corners (which corners shall represent a square, or as near thereto as may be), a wooden post not less than four inches square, driven not less than eighteen inches in the ground, and shewing the length of eighteen inches above ground, and in case of the ground being too rocky to admit of so driving the posts into it, he shall build about each of the said posts, to support and keep it in place, a cairn or mound of stone three feet in diameter at the base and eighteen inches high; the land contained between such four corner posts shall be called a "mining location," and the extent thereof shall not be more than one square mile; but, in case the vein, lode, or deposit of mineral so discovered shall be situate on land which shall not admit of being located within or bounded by four straight lines, then the said posts shall be so placed as to shew the extreme boundaries as nearly as may be of the mining location of which a lease is to be applied for. As soon as circumstances permit, after placing said posts, such person shall give notice in writing to the Surveyor General, and in such form as may be directed by him, of his having so staked such land, with as full and correct description as possible of the same, and of his intention of applying for a lease thereof, and on payment of a fee of fifty dollars to the Surveyor General such notice shall be duly recorded in a book kept for the purpose, the first notice filed in the Surveyor General's Office after such staking shall be considered as giving to the person filing such notice a priority of claim over any other applicant for the same land; and further, shall cause a full and complete survey of such mining location to be made by a surveyor, where possible, on meridian lines, and shall file, or cause to be filed, in the office of the Surveyor General, an application for a lease of such mining location, which application shall be signed by the person so applying, or his duly constituted attorney, and shall have annexed thereto the plan, field notes, and description of the said mining location drawn, prepared, and signed by the said surveyor; and upon the filing of such application, survey, de-

Staking, notice and fee confer certain rights;

LXIII.—The erection of boundary posts, together with the filing of the notice and payment of the fee provided in the last preceding section, shall be construed to give and shall confer upon the person who has searched and prospected such mining location and has discovered a vein, lode, or deposit of mineral therein, an absolute and exclusive right to such mining location for the purpose of further search and exploration for the period of twelve months after the due filing of such notice, but such absolute and exclusive right shall not include nor be deemed to give to the person possessing the same any right to remove and take away from such mining location any more mineral found therein or thereon than shall be necessary to be used as samples; and in case such person shall fail to procure such survey and plan, and to file the same in the Surveyor General's Office, and to make application for a lease as provided in the last preceding section, within the period of twelve months after the filing of such notice in the office of the Surveyor General, he shall forfeit all right and claim to such mining location and its appurtenances, and all mines and minerals therein, and to any lease thereof, and he shall immediately after the expiration of the said twelve months remove all the boundary posts placed by him on the said mining location.
